

Byrne Dean

Of course everyone likes to think they are different and very often our job is to tease out those points of difference and communicate them. But Byrne Dean, a firm of rather unconventional lawyers specialising in employment issues, practice what they preach. And their 'flip chart' company brochure that we conceived, wrote and illustrated for them explains just how.